TELEVISION

Here in Egypt, television has a powerful hold over people's minds. It is an instrument of leisure, of information and - to a very limited extent - of culture. It does not stop people reading newspapers or books, going to the cinema or theatre or watching videos. But these activities are occasional, irregular and ultimately of secondary importance. Television is one of the main subjects of conversation, at school, in offices, at home and in the street, as well as being written about in all the newspapers.

It might be said that the main objective of television is to persuade the maximum number of people to watch it for the maximum amount of time. And how effectively the sitcoms and soap operas do that! I do not think that I have ever seen any other country so totally dominated by these shows. Some of them are Egyptian productions but the majority is American. Each episode, each programme, is a talking point for everyone, young and old alike.

Câu 8: Which is the main idea of the passage?

- A. Television, an instrument of leisure.
 B. Television and its use.
 C. Television, the main subjects of conversation.
 D. Television, the rest of the media and American soaps.

Câu 9: What does television have over people's mind?

- A. An influence. B. A picture. C. An impression. D. A limit.

Câu 10: At school or in offices, television is considered as a topic _____.

- A. for people to talk about B. for discussion
 C. for learning D. for entertainment

Câu 11: What might the main objective of television be?

- A. To get people away from their work. B. To get people away from their free time.
 C. To allow much time for many people to watch it. D. To waste time.

Câu 12: How often are the sitcoms and soap operas shown on TV?

- A. Rarely. B. Usually. C. Sometimes. D. Never.

Most people think of computers as very modern inventions, products of our new technological age. But actually the idea for a computer had been worked out over two centuries ago by a man (16)_____ Charles Babbage. Babbage was born in 1791 and grew up to be a brilliant mathematician. He drew up plans for several calculating machines which he called "engines". But despite the fact that he (17)_____ building some of these, he never finished any of them. Over the years people have argued (18) _____ his machines would ever work. Recently, however, the Science Museum in London has finished building ([<4>]) _____ engine based on one of Babbage's designs. ([<5>]) _____ has taken six years to complete and more than four thousand parts have been specially made.

Whether it works or not, the machine will be on show at a special exhibition in the Science Museum to remind people of Babbage's work.
