Michael Jordan was born on February 17, 1963, in Brooklyn, New York. His family later moved to Wilmington, North Carolina.

Young Michael's best sport was baseball. He didn't make his high school basketball team when he was at school. Later, he played well enough to be noticed by Coach Dean Smith at the University of North Carolina (UNC). Jordan won a scholarship to UNC. As a first-year student at UNC, Jordan scored the winning basket in the 1982 national college tournament championship game. He played two more seasons at UNC. He also played for the United States team in the 1984 Olympic Games. In 1984, Jordan entered the National Basketball Association (NBA) player draft. He was chosen by the Chicago Bulls.

Many people think Michael Jordan was the greatest basketball player ever. He led the Chicago Bulls to six NBA championships. He was called "Air Jordan" because of his leaps towards the basket. Fans adored his smiling face and his determination to succeed. During his playing career, Michael Jordan became one of the most famous athletes in the world.
